Dear Robert:

I would like to let you know the progress we have made on the Margaret Winter Memorial Quilt show. On February 3RD Always is Stitches will be hanging all the quilts of Peg's you so kindly gave us. We took pictures of them on Tuesday in preparation for a program with information about each quilt. Some will just be about the pattern, others will include information about when Peg made it and why.

Leah is getting in contact with Denise Norberg to hopefully have a program about quilts of Pennsylvania some time during February.

I asked if we could have a display board with the title of the show and a picture of Peg. Do you have a nice picture of Peg we can use for the board. Molly and I were going to ask Jeanette Kitlan for the photo she has from the Airing of the Quilts. I haven't been able to get to Tunkhannock this week. Endless Mountain Quilts is going out of business and I don't think Jeanette has been responding to her emails, as she seems overwhelmed.

I will update you on the speaker and date when I hear from Leah. Sandy Longo, a librarian at Abington Community has also arranged an interview about Peg and the show on February 19 with Stephanie Longo of the Abington Surburban newspaper. Can you be there? I am not sure of the time but I will find out from Sandy.

As Peg use to say, that's all I know about that. But I will let you know the updates as I get them.

MCL,
Susan

You will hang the quilts on February 3rd. Is that the day of the show?

Abington Newspaper interview, February 19: yes I can be there.

to me

The show will be all month long. The quilts will be hanging throughout February. We will be using our meeting time to get the quilts displayed. As the saying goes, many hands.. I am unsure of when the speaker will be scheduled. We hope to have a weekend and have a room capacity of 40 people. I know the interview is late but we decided it is about Peg not about the speaker. Leah can advertise the speaker on Live and Learn in Lackawanna County. If you have a quilt you would like hung, please let me know. The larger ones will be in the Ryon room. We will be using the ceiling in the main room so smaller quilts. We don't want the ceiling crashing down. Once I Leah lines up a speaker I was thinking of getting the Abington Journal to attend the event.

Oh one more thing. We have been working on the quilt we are dedicating in Peg's memory. Our goal is to have it finished in time for the show.
